Gentlemen:

Mr. George William Eggers, of the Worcester Art Museum, is kind enough to suggest, in connection with an inquiry that I made of him recently, that you perhaps may be willing to help me with a problem on which I am working. I have practically ready for the press a manual of mythology, covering Greek, Roman, Germanic (Norse), and Celtic subjects. I wonder if you can help me to find suitable illustrations for this volume? Have you any photographs of coins, on a scale large enough for reproduction, on which are shown figures or episodes from these mythological fields? I'd be very grateful indeed for any assistance you can give me.

With appreciation,

Sincerely yours,

Max J. Herzberg

Dear Sir:

Responding to yours of May 31st, I believe we can help you, though I think we best do so if you will come to our Library at your convenience. I should question the advisability of illustrating coins larger than their actual size.

Very truly yours,

Secretary
